Seven At Picnic Die As Jet Crashes In Pennsylvania

Pilot Loses Control, Bails Out of Craft

Tragedy Occurs At Willow Grove, 500 Feet From Runway

WILLOW GROVE, Pa. (AP)—A pilotless Navy jet crashed on a baseball field Sunday, then careened in flames into a day camp bathhouse, killing seven persons at a family picnic.

Four children were among the dead. The pilot of the jet bailed out safely a half mile away.

One man was killed as the plane, its wings ripped off when it ploughed through trees, hit the field during a sudden rainstorm. Bodies of the other victims were dug out of the leveled bathhouse.

At least 17 of the 125 or more persons at the picnic were injured. Twelve were admitted to Abington Memorial Hospital, one in serious condition.

Killed were Jennie Klein, 36; her daughter, Sandra, 10, and her son, Harvey Klein, 4; Jeanne Arnold, 40, her daughter, Judy Arnold, 1; Emanuel Milton Fine, 47, and Caroline Hersfield, 10, all lived in Philadelphia.

Capt. John W. Butler, Boiling Springs, Pa., 30, a Marine Reserve pilot, was headed for a landing at Willow Grove Naval Air Station, 18 miles north of Philadelphia, when something went wrong with the FJ Fury fighter.

Navy spokesmen said they did not know what caused the malfunction, adding that it apparently occurred in the electrical system.

Capt. Albert Waldman, commander of the base, said, "There will be a big investigation. We will determine what happened."

The end of the airfield's landing strip is only 500 feet from the Green Hill Day Camp which the picnicers had rented for their annual reunion. They were members of either the "Rosman Cousins Club" or the "Weiner Family Circle," with parts of both groups related to each other.

Capt. Waldman said Butler is a member of the 511th Marine Fighter Squadron.

"As far as we know the pilot lost control of his plane and we don't know the reason why. There was nothing physically possible that the pilot could do to control the airplane so he just bailed out."

Butler, who is married, was in seclusion. His commanding officer Col. David M. Dancer, couldn't be reached for comment.

Butler apparently had steered his craft for what he believed was an unoccupied field. A clump of trees obscured the bathhouse and adjoining two-story building.

Group Cited For Using Guilford Beach Too Early

Following the arrest Saturday of a group of young people who used the public beach at Guilford Lake before the swimming spot was officially opened for the day, Park Manager Walter Burbick issued a reminder of the hours the beach may be legally used.

The public beach at the north-east side of the lake is open from 10 a.m. until darkness. During these hours, lifeguards are on duty and a resuscitator and first aid equipment are available for emergency use.

Nine young people who were cited to court by the park manager gained entrance to the public beach Saturday at 8:50 a.m. by driving through a narrow walkway and across the lawn to the parking lot. The group, including boys and girls, went in swimming without protection, Burbick said.

From darkness until 10 a.m., entrance to the beach parking lot is locked and a sign "Beach Closed" is evident.

Strike Deadline Nears

President, Wirtz Confer After Rail Unions Reject Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy and Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz meet today to map their next move in the strike-threatening railroad deadlock following union rejection of a settlement plan.

In advance of the White House session, all signs pointed toward an administration request to Congress for legislation to bar the nationwide rail walkout scheduled for Thursday.

The President had told both sides in the work rules dispute that if they couldn't work out an agreement he would ask for new laws to protect the public interest. He has run out of delaying procedures under existing law.

Although there was no firm word on what might be proposed, Wirtz noted only a few days ago that speculation had centered around compulsory arbitration and government seizure and operation of the railroads or some combination of the two.

Rail unions turned down Sunday a government settlement formula which had been accepted by the railroads.

The five operating unions vowed a bitter fight to defeat any legislation proposed in the controversy.

A railroad negotiator repeated that the new rules — eliminating thousands of jobs the railroads contend are unnecessary — will go into effect at 12:01 a.m. Thursday unless Congress passes legislation for one-shot compulsory arbitration to settle the dispute. The unions threaten to follow with an immediate strike.

The unions—which have contended the present job lineup is efficient and is necessary for the safe operation of the trains—rejected as "thinly disguised compulsory arbitration" the settlement formula proposed last week by Wirtz.

The Wirtz plan called for 20 days of negotiations to draft a temporary agreement on major issues, including implementation of a plan under which 40,000 firemen's jobs would be eliminated through attrition.

That was recommended by a presidential emergency board and backed by the Supreme Court.

If those talks failed, Assistant Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds was to draft settlement terms.

Then union-management boards were to study the controversy over a two-year period and make binding settlement recommendations. If they couldn't agree, neutral board members were to be named to make settlement recommendations that would bind both sides.

The proposal was accepted

Wilkins Says Youth To Be More Active

NEW YORK (AP) — Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said today NAACP youth groups have been "unshackled and will take a more aggressive role" in the organization's civil rights fight.

"Our 40,000-member youth corps will no longer be restrained or hampered by conservative policies of some local NAACP chapters," Wilkins said.

"They will receive direction from our national headquarters in New York and be free to plan and stage demonstrations under our existing constitution and directives."

Wilkins was interviewed by telephone from Charleston, S.C., where he had addressed an integration meeting Sunday night.

His comments on NAACP youth resulted from a bitter attack on the quality of the organization's youth leaders by James H. Meredith, the first known Negro to attend the University of Mississippi. Meredith's criticism, made at the NAACP's annual convention in Chicago last week, was answered with a vehemence which caused Meredith to admit "I wept my first tears since I was a child."

Meredith aroused the anger of the NAACP youth group by saying:

"Anyone of you burr heads out there could be the owner of a large department store, president of a corporation, or even mayor of the city of Chicago. Only believe, all things are possible, if you only believe."

He also remarked on "the low quality and ineffectiveness of our Negro youth leaders."

Wilkins commended Meredith as a "very independent and courageous person."

"It was unfortunate, however, that he made the mistake of attacking our youth."

"Mr. Meredith endured much to be admitted to the University of Mississippi, but he is now out of step and evidently misinformed about the civil rights fight," Wilkins said.

Wilkins emphasized that the role of adults in the NAACP is not being de-emphasized but is being revamped to allow the organization's youth to participate more actively in the integration fight.

The NAACP leader said he had found the leadership in the youth

White Youth Is Shot In Race Flareup

By The Associated Press
Racial violence in New York and Baltimore overshadowed peaceful integration steps taken Sunday by two widely separated churches.

A white teen-ager was wounded early today by a gunshot from a passing car near a Bronx diner, which had been the scene of a racial disturbance earlier. The boy, Jack Cippolla, 16, of the Bronx, told police the gunman was a Negro. Cippolla suffered a flesh wound in the right cheek.

The diner is being picketed by white and Negro members of the Congress of Racial Equality. CORE is demanding that the diner chain, White Castle, hire more Negroes.

Early Sunday, some persons in a crowd of several thousand, mostly teen-agers, hurled rocks, eggs and tomatoes at the pickets. Shortly before the shooting, police dispersed a crowd of several hundred white youths in the area.

Baltimore police arrested more than 100 white and Negro integrationists—including 13 clergymen—at a privately owned amusement park in suburban Woodlawn while about 6,000 white patrons hurled catcalls and obscenities. The integrationists were charged with trespass.

Officers arrested four of the white hecklers and charged them with disorderly conduct.

This contrasted sharply with developments in Tucson, Ariz., and Richmond, Va. The Pueblo Gardens Methodist Church at Tucson welcomed its new pastor, the Rev. Wilbur Johnson. The minister is a Negro. The congregation is all-white. The pastor was Multiple-death highway accidents marred Ohio's long July 4 holiday weekend as three crashes—two Friday and one Sunday—snuffed out a dozen lives and pushed the toll beyond the 27 predicted by safety officials.

The Associated Press tabulation of accidental deaths began at 6 p.m. last Wednesday and ended at midnight Sunday.

At least 29 perished on the highways. Three drowned, including one in a boating accident, and five deaths were attributed to miscellaneous accidents for an overall toll of 37.

The first multiple-death highway accident occurred early Friday on U.S. 36 about 1½ miles east of Piqua when a car collided with a tractor-trailer. A young couple in the car and the truck driver died in the tangled wreckage.

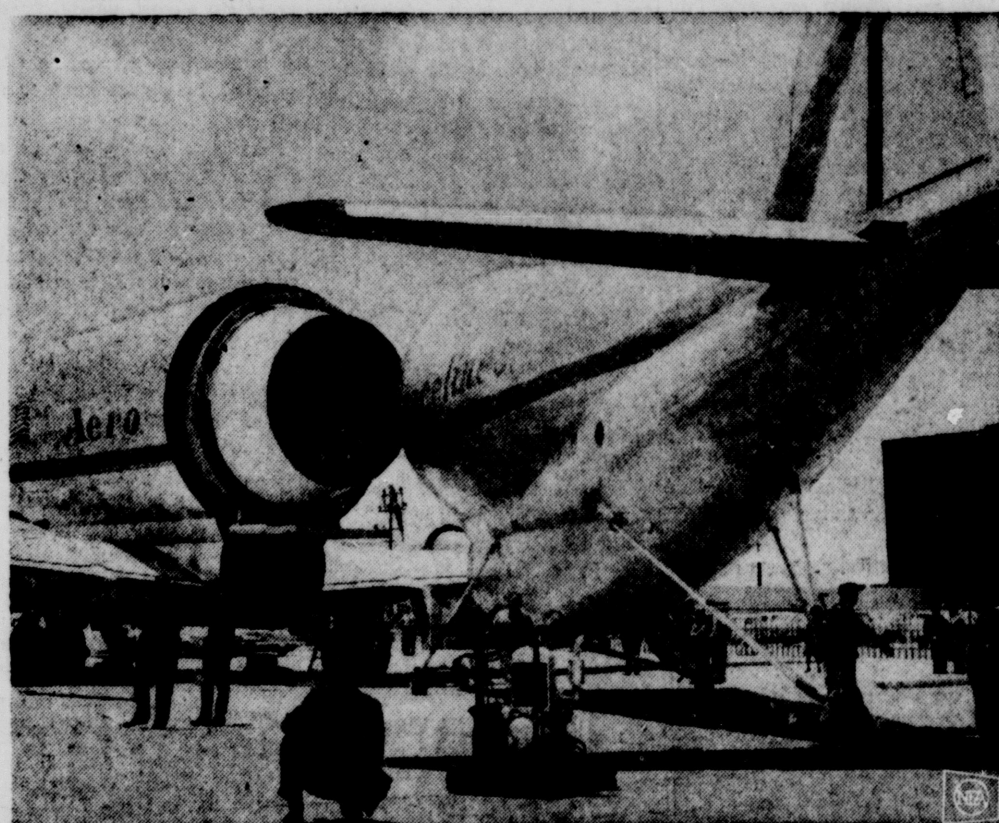

A similar accident the same day in southern Champaign County wiped out five members of a West Virginia family returning home from a holiday visit in Chicago. Their car slammed at high speed into the side of a tractor-trailer rig at the intersection of Ohio 4 and 56 near Mechanicsburg. The truck driver and his passenger escaped serious injury.

The third multi-fatality crash occurred Sunday on Ohio 44 three miles north of Chardon in Geauga County. The victims, two teen-agers, were killed when their car went out of control and crashed into a bridge abutment.

Victims of the miscellaneous accidents were a two-year-old Chardon youngster who plucked a weed and sucked on it after his father had sprayed with a chemical weed killer, an 80-year-old Cincinnati man who was knocked into a moat by a giraffe he attempted to pet at the Cincinnati Zoo, a 15-year-old Cleveland boy who shot himself with a pistol, and a Uniontown boy injured in a baseball game.

WHALE OF A LOAD — Split right down the middle, a modified Boeing Stratocruiser known as the "Pregnant Guppy" swallows the largest cargo ever to be lifted by an airplane. Later, back in one piece, the plane successfully went through a test flight over Los Angeles, Calif. The cargo, an inert S-IV second stage of the giant Saturn rocket, weighed 20,379 pounds and took up an area 41 feet long and 18 feet in diameter. "Guppy" flights are expected to cut S-IV transportation time to Cape Canaveral from the three weeks now required by barge through the Panama Canal to about 12 hours.

Meeting Seen As Snub to Red China

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev today conferred in Kiev with Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium on easing East-West tensions.

Khrushchev met with the former secretary-general of NATO hundreds of miles from Moscow, apparently to demonstrate his aloofness from the showdown talk between the Soviet and Chinese Communist parties, now going on here.

The studied snub was emphasized by the nature of the conference. Tass said it was a continuation of the conversations the two men had in 1961. That was when Khrushchev withdrew his deadline for signing a peace treaty with Germany and turning West Berlin into an internationally controlled free city.

The Chinese have violently opposed Khrushchev's policy of trying to coexist peacefully with the West. The meeting with Spaak was a dramatic demonstration of this policy.

Host Families Are Excited

Exchange Pupils' Arrival Awaited

The families who are taking in the itinerant foreign students during their three-day visit here starting Tuesday are anticipating their arrival with enthusiasm.

A few are even going to the trouble to brush up on languages, grown rusty with time, although most all the 36 boys and girls from 19 countries express themselves in English with varying degrees of fluency and with a range of peculiar accents.

The children of the host families are especially afluster with the prospect of the boys' and girls' arrival.

The Rolin Herrons, whose two teenage sons are taking foreign languages in public school, think the coming of two European lasses to their home is great. The Herron family is "sold" on the American Field Service's program of bringing foreign students to study in American schools, and Salem High School, and is even more impressed since their past year's experience with Azhar Djaleois, who stayed at the Herron residence while attending Herron High School.

Rolin Herron Jr., who will be a junior, and his brother Richard, an eighth grader, can't wait to meet Bernadette Masson, a Belgian girl, and Gudrun Heidrich, a German fraulein, who will spend Tuesday evening, Wednesday and part of Thursday at their home.

Young Rolin is studying French and Richard is starting in German so they hope to try out their "oui's and non's" or "ja's and nein's."

Mr. Herron was in Germany during World War II so has an acquaintance with things European.

Mrs. Alfred Fitch said she might brush off her old German dictionary in preparation for the arrival of the Fitches' German visitor, Peter Goth. She and her husband will also be host to Hisakazu Kato of Japan.

Most of the families aren't making special plans for the students the first evening after the bus arrives downtown at 5:30 p.m., but will allow the boys and girls themselves to choose whatever they like.

If after their bus ride to Salem, from Springfield, (O.), the youths feel like activity, several families mentioned sailing, miniature golfing, or sight-seeing as possibilities. Time is limited, however, since AFS regulations state the youngsters must be in bed by 10:30 or 11 since their itinerary is strenuous.

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Argentina's voters today pushed a country doctor toward the presidency of South America's second largest nation and also gave a setback to exiled dictator Juan D. Peron.

Only 14 per cent of the voters heeded the Peronist call to cast blank ballots in Sunday's election. In previous elections boycotted by Peronists, blank ballots have run as high as one third of the vote.

It appeared, that about 2 million of Argentina's 11.5 million eligible voters stayed home despite fines prescribed in the compulsory voting law. This could be due to resentment at the barring from the race of the Peronist candidate, Vicente Solano Lima, who had been the favorite.

Arturo Illia, 62, held a steady lead as counting of the votes continued, but he fell far short of the 51 per cent required for election.

Voters cast ballots for electors pledged to the presidential candidates, not for the candidates. The Electoral College will meet July 31 to name a president. Since no candidate got 51 per cent of the switch.

If no candidate gets a 51 per cent vote in the Electoral College, the election is thrown into Congress. There the choice is confined to the top three in the Electoral College voting.

With about half the vote counted, government figures gave Illia, 1,173,000 votes, or about 25 per cent. Dr. Oscar Alende, former governor of Buenos Aires Province, had 824,430 votes, and re-

Sebring Man, 26, Is Injured As Car Hits Train
SEBRING — Dennis Ogden, 26, of North Jackson Rd., Sebring, is listed in fair condition at Alliance City Hospital with injuries sustained when his car struck a train at about 5 a.m. Sunday at the Courtney Road crossing.

Mahoning County Deputy Sheriff Arthur Eells, who investigated the accident, said Ogden was driving west when he struck the 160-car New York Central lines train, which was traveling west toward Alliance.

The impact threw Ogden's car 60 feet south into a utility pole. There are no signal lights at the crossing.

After the mishap, Ogden, a crippled mute, walked to a house about a mile away and reported the accident to the Sebring police.

Alliance police then phoned the railroad station at Alliance and told officials, who were unaware that the accident had occurred. The train had continued into Alliance. No damage was reported done to the train.

Ogden suffered contusions, abrasions, fractured ribs and possible internal injuries. He was cited by Deputy Eells for driving without an operator's license.

Previous High Over July 4th Holiday 509

143 Persons Die By Drowning, 41 In Boating Mishaps

By The Associated Press
The nation's traffic deaths hit a record high for a four-day Independence Day holiday.

Traffic accidents cost the lives of 538 persons during the 102-hour holiday period extending from 6 p.m. local time Wednesday to midnight Sunday. The previous high toll for a four-day Fourth of July Holiday was 509, set in 1961.

Belated reports probably will boost the final figure. There was a heavy spurt in fatalities Sunday and Sunday night as millions of motorists jammed highways in the homeward rush.

The National Safety Council, in a pre-holiday statement, estimated 550-650 persons would die in traffic accidents during the long weekend.

"It has been a costly weekend in terms of accidental death and injury, breaking all records for a summer holiday weekend," said Howard Pyle, council president.

"The wicked part of it is that at least 70 per cent of the damage was done through avoidable situations: speeds too great for conditions, failure to yield right-of-way, violation of the centerline in the road, and drinking and driving."

The council's figures show that traffic deaths in the first five months this year have averaged 100 per day.

An Associated Press survey of a four-day non-holiday weekend showed 458 traffic deaths. The 102-hour period was from 6 p.m. Wednesday, June 19 to midnight Sunday, June 23.

There were several multiple fatality accidents during this year's holiday.

In addition to traffic deaths, 143 persons drowned and 41 others lost their lives in boating accidents.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT

'Easy Does It' When It's Hot

Watch that summer heat! The body's chief mechanism for keeping cool is perspiration. It is estimated that a burst of vigorous exercise in the sun on a hot day will produce about one quart of sweat in one hour. At this rate it wouldn't take long to deplete the body's salt and water.

When this happens heat cramps or heat exhaustion may occur.

The victim gets a headache with fever, becomes drenched with sweat and may or may not have muscular twitching and cramps. When this happens he must be moved to a cool, shady place at once. Most of his clothing should be removed or at least loosened to allow maximum contact with air.

He should be sponged with cold water and fanned. Do not try to give him liquids by mouth if he is unconscious as this will choke him. If he is conscious, let him drink water to which salt has been added about a teaspoonful to a quart.

If he becomes cold and clammy he has heat prostration. Wrap him in a blanket and call a doctor at once. If, on the other hand, the skin becomes hot and dry and he has a heat stroke. Immerse him in a tub of ice water and have someone call a doctor without delay. These are true emergencies and sometimes fatal.

ALL THIS CAN BE PREVENTED, of course, by using moderation. Don't stay in the hot sun more than a few minutes at a time until you have become acclimated by gradually increasing the time of exposure from day to day. Wear loose clothing, as little as is consistent with modesty, and preferably light in color. Eat your regular diet but drink more fluids than usual. Don't radically increase your consumption of raw vegetables and fruit just because they are in season.

If you have to mow the lawn or want to play a fast game of tennis, try to do these things in the early morning or late afternoon. Take several short rests rather than fewer long ones. In this way you will avoid placing an undue burden on your heart and will get more pleasure from your warm weather pursuits.

QOne reader writes that he is troubled with itching eyebrows for which various lotions have given only temporary relief. Another reader asks what would cause an itching spot on his scalp that is associated with scaling.

Although this disease can rarely be cured, much can now be done to control it. Sulfur ointment, coal tar ointment or soap and preparations containing selenium sulfide, cadmium sulfide, tetrathionate and pentathionate have given excellent results but they should be used only under a doctor's supervision since improper use may aggravate the condition.

entire corn fields, he suggests the same chemicals to be used in 20 gallons of water per acre.

Blair warns farmers to observe label limitations as to the use of straw from grain treated with these chemicals, as well as the days to allow between applications and harvest.

Chinch bugs appear in scattered Ohio corn fields each year in numbers varying from trifling to large enough to practically destroy a crop. The winged adults winter among the roots of grass, under leaves, sticks, logs, and stones. They emerge in the spring and fly to fields of small grain where the female deposits her eggs at the base of the plant. The new generation hatches and develops in the small grain field until forced out by starvation pressure when the grain ripens. Blair points out. Young chinch bugs cannot fly. Their travel on the ground makes control by chemical barrier strips possible.

DOWN on the FARM

Ohio 3rd In Maple Sirup

Ohio maple sirup production last year totaled 83,000 gallons, down about 31,000 gallons from the 1962 level. But the state still ranked third in the nation in the production of maple sirup, lead only by Vermont with 392,000 gallons and New York with 365,000 gallons.

The past maple sirup season was an unusual one for Ohio, points out William Cowen, Jr., Ohio State University extension forester. It was the shortest season since 1946, delayed until early March and running only two or three weeks. However, the sap sugar content was high. Spot checks indicated a sugar percentage of 2 to 2.5 per cent. Cowen reports, compared to the usual average of 1.7 per cent.

Fight Cereal Leaf Beetle

Although several northwestern Ohio counties have been placed under quarantine because of cereal leaf beetle there has been no economic damage from this pest observed in Ohio, says B. D. Blair, Ohio State University extension entomologist.

The quarantine was imposed in an effort to find infested areas and contain the insect in these areas, Blair reports. Michigan farmers have reported economic damage to oats and wheat.

Blair says many Ohio farmers have requested control recommendations, thinking that insecticides might be necessary to protect their crops this summer. What should Ohio farmers do now? Check timothy, barley, wheat, oats, and corn fields for the presence of damage, beetles, or larvae Blair advises.

The entomologist says larvae chew by taking strips out between the leaf veins. Adult damage appears as long white strips on the leaf. The adult is slightly less than one-quarter inch long, has metallic bluish-black wing covers and head, with red on the legs and front segment of the thorax. The larvae look much like that of the Colorado potato beetle and usually are covered with fecal material that obscures the body color, except for the head and legs.

Fruit Trees Need Moisture

Newly planted fruit trees need moisture, and lots of it. During the hot, dry days of July and August, first-year trees should be watered at least once a week, providing no rains occur.

A word of caution, though! Avoid watering to the extent of keeping the roots in a water-soaked soil, advises Extension Fruit Specialist Eldon Banta of The Ohio State University. Watering can be less frequent—every two or three weeks of the fruit trees are mulched. Besides conserving moisture from evaporation, a mulch will help control weeds, if it's deep enough. Hay, straw, sawdust, peat moss or black plastic make good mulches.

Get Chinch Bugs

The time to control chinch bugs in corn fields is before they get there, according to B. D. Blair, Ohio State University Extension entomologist.

Once chinch bugs infest an entire corn field, control is difficult. Blair says, since most farmers do not have the kind of equipment needed to get good coverage of insecticides in tall corn. He suggests control measures be applied when the bugs are damaging wheat and during migration to corn.

For small grain fields, the entomologist recommends one-half pound of actual toxicant dieldrin (2 3-4 pints 15 per cent emulsion concentrate), or 3 pounds actual toxicant toxaphene (2 quarts 60 per cent emulsion concentrate) per acre. The same materials, Blair says, may be used in treatment of a barrier strip to protect adjoining corn fields. When treating

Too Tough to Negotiate

Railroad workers must be tired of people who wonder why they can't "negotiate" the terms of a work-rules settlement, instead of threatening to strike if railroads put the rules into effect on schedule next Thursday.

Some things are too tough to negotiate. Railroad workers are not talking about pay scales and fringe benefits but about their jobs.

A man does not negotiate himself out of a chance to make a living.

He does not palaver away his livelihood.

WHETHER the opposing sides in the railroad dispute will find a way to lift the strike threat before the work rules go into effect at 12:01 a.m. on July 11 is not going to be known until just before the deadline, in all probability.

Union negotiators will seek the best deal in sight for the workers they represent. And it is a good guess at this time that the best deal will be more likely to come from Congress than railroad management.

Congress would be mindful of the human beings involved in this 1963 showdown on the dispute over "featherbedding." Railroad management, though not unmindful of people, must be mindful of the financial necessity of trimming its operating costs by getting rid of unneeded employees.

NO WORKER likes to be classified as "unneeded." Rail workers resent it as much as other workers would resent it. They strike back with allegations that rail management is freighted down with dead-weights.

Ideally, workers whose jobs are being cut from under them would cooperate with management to get themselves off the payroll with as little trouble as possible — or retrained — or pensioned — or relocated — whatever destiny awaited them. They would want to maintain harmony.

But this is not an ideal situation. This is like that railroad crossing watchman who said he would run to the nearest phone and call his sister if two trains were going to have a head-on collision. And why would he call his sister?

Because he would want her to be on hand for the biggest collision she ever saw.

Railroad management and the employees it could get along without have been on a collision course for years. Nothing can stop them. It's time to call sister, unless Congress has magic up its sleeve.

United States to the Rescue

U.S. refused to advance funds to Egypt construction of the Aswan Dam.

Playing for whatever political advantage it could achieve, Russia stepped into the breach and agreed to underwrite the project.

But now waters of the Nile rising behind the dam are threatening two ancient Egyptian temples.

And who do you suppose is tentatively committed to pay a third of the cost of preserving them?

Why, United States, of course.

President Kennedy announced the new

U.S. commitment June 12. The cost to American taxpayers, if Congress is silly enough to go along, will be up to $13 million — several times the amount approved by Congress in 1961.

The new plan involves carving the temples out of the cliff to be inundated, dismantling them and reconstructing them on top of the cliff.

On the basis of Egypt's political behavior, we can't help but wonder whether, in saving the temples, we would not, instead, be inundating the $13 million.

Always Blame the Republicans

When Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley was jeered off the platform at a rally of National Association for Colored People in Chicago on Independence Day, he blamed Republicans.

It was the kind of comment that could be expected from the boss of one of the country's key Democratic bastions. And unfortunately it was the kind of comment that can be expected from many quarters as the Democratic party faces its moment of truth on the problem of Negro rights.

The Ohio AFL-CIO house organ, "News and Views," produced this twist of logic on the same subject:

"There are 67 Democratic senators and 33 Republican senators. It takes 67 votes to break a filibuster. Writing off the two dozen Southern Democrats, the needed votes for cloture will have to come from the part of Lincoln. But the outlook is not too encouraging for the necessary GOP votes."

What would be wrong about demanding that the 67 Democratic votes should line up to break a filibuster?

This is a Democratic showdown. Northern Democrats are hoping to win even stronger Negro support than they have had in the past by going for Negro rights. They will give no credit to Republicans for helping them, nor is there any reason to think Negro voters have any plans to help Republicans either.

Yet, Southern Democrats refuse to let Negroes have full citizenship. Southern Democrats keep the Democratic party in power. Southern Democrats will block civil rights legislation. They are irreconcilable.

Can Republicans be blamed for not wanting to help the Democratic party continue its Jekyll-Hyde existence in national politics? This is the long-awaited moment of truth for Democratic leaders who have had two faces one for the North, another for the South.

A Real Treat

Remember the old-fashioned band concerts from the bandstand on the square, or in the park, in your home town.

Well, those nostalgic events are not so much a thing of yesteryear as you might believe, especially if you are fortunate enough to live in Salem. The city's championship American Legion Quaker City band last evening presented another of its popular outdoor concerts at Centennial Park, much to the enjoyment of the crowd. Conflicting events often cut attendance at the band's winter concerts but the summer programs at the park are always enjoyed. There'll be another before the summer is over and we'll remind you of it. It's a real treat!

Complete the Job

City Council's recent "green light" to proceed with the much-needed extension of W. Second St. beyond Jennings has excited the residents of adjacent streets to the north over the prospects of a tie-in with their dead-end thoroughfares.

If Stewart Ave. can be opened up to W. Second St., the people who reside on hilly W. Third, Fourth, Fifth and Sixth streets would not experience the inconvenience of having their cars stalled on those streets during winter storms. Carl Seckley, the industrialist who is deeding a portion of ground to help the W. Second St. extension, has frequently permitted these people to cut across his property but the residents feel like they are imposing on his generosity.

If the city engineer's office concurs, perhaps City Council can make the improvement complete by adding Stewart Ave. to the extension.

Protect It

Certainly the most abused idea in the United States today must be "sportsmanship."

Let's get squared away on what sportsmanship is, according to the dictionary version—"Skill in, devotion to, or understanding of sports of various kinds; especially conduct becoming to sportsmen, involving honest rivalry, courteous relations and graceful acceptance of results."

The second part of the definition is ignored by millions of people who prate about sportsmanship. They never give it a thought.

In their narrow view of the matter only one thing matters—winning. This is what the ding-dong into the minds of the young. This is how they conduct their own affairs—finish first at any cost.

Sportsmanship to them means only half the definition—"skill and understanding." Their hero of heroes is Ty Cobb, the spikes-flying, elbows flailing, cut-em-up-rough-em-up ball player.

The guys who make their hearts beat faster are Durochers kicking dust on umpires, football behemoths crunching down on ball carriers already grounded and basketball stalwarts who have mastered the art of the uplifted knee and the descending foot.

The thing wrong with this is the confusion it causes. It is all right to play to win at any cost, but it's not all right to babble about sportsmanship while doing it. A sportsman draws a line between winning and winning at any cost.

It's on the borderline of criminality to raise youngsters in the belief that sportsmanship is only half the definition agreed on by people who understand the term.

Take umpire-baiting. "Graceful acceptance of results" is one of the obligations of sportsmanship. Inevitably, the umpire, referee, head linesman, stewards judges or whoever has responsibility for making decisions will cut across the grain of the contestants when a decision goes against them.

A sportsman swallows his disappointment and keeps his mouth shut. How often does this happen? And when it does happen, do the "sportsmen" draw applause for living up to sportsmanship?

Just the opposite. They are despised as lily-livered, namby-pamby sissies too chicken to stand up for their right by breathing heavily on the offending official while paying spectators thrill to another demonstration of a great "sportsman" plying his trade.

There are great athletes.

They are fine sportsmen.

Sometimes they are in the same package. It would be a service to the young if their elders who prate about sportsmanship always specify whether they mean it or winning-at-any-price gamesmanship. There's a difference.

Sportsmanship is so rare in this country it must be protected, like whooping cranes and classic liberalism.

Crises, Challenges To Be Faced In Next 6 Months

By PETER EDSON

The next six months may be as fateful as any half-year since the end of World War II. Developments now coming to a head are important to the United States internationally and on the domestic front as well.

Moscow talks between Russian and Red Chinese leaders may set the course for the future of communism. A widening split between the two camps, which now seems likely, greatly alters the international balance of power in Asia.

The most immediate result might be a decision on the resumption of Red China's attack on India later this year. Finally aroused to the Communist menace, India is now said to see that the real threat from Red China is its advance through Burma and Indochina into the Malay peninsula.

The threat of further Communist penetration into Southeast Asia has been increased by British failure to persuade the Russians to help stop the fighting in Laos. Pakistan's foolish flirtations with Red China as an ally that might help against India further heighten the prospect for trouble in South Asia.

AFTER THE Russia-Red China talks in Moscow come American-

British-Russian negotiations on a nuclear test ban. The outcome will indicate whether the threat of nuclear warfare becomes more acute or is eased. If the latter, there may be some hope for eventual progress towards disarmament.

President Kennedy's trip to Europe is being hailed as a great personal triumph, making clear America's continued support for Europe. But the extent to which the mission advanced American objectives for a strengthened North Atlantic Treaty Organization is still uncertain.

The proposed NATO multilateral nuclear force, armed with Polaris missiles, has been temporarily shelved. It may never come into being as long as the opposition of French President Charles de Gaulle continues.

BRITISH AND ITALIAN governments are weak and may fall. The German government will change this autumn with the retirement of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. The Netherlands faces elections. Stability in Europe is questionable.

The failure of Europe to unite in a common market or for meaningful trade and tariff negotiations with the United States weakens the whole Atlantic alliance at a time when it needs to show strength against the Communist front. The possibility that the Russians may revive the Berlin crisis at any time is a constant threat.

The Near East, Africa and Latin America are in a ferment of development, still unsure they can govern themselves as democracies. Argentina, with elections set for today, is battling against a revival of Peronism. Brazil, Venezuela and British Guiana are prime targets for Communist infiltration, some of it exported from Cuba.

THE CONTINUED PRESENCE of Russian troops in Cuba remains the most serious irritation to the United States. The State Department now maintains there are not enough Russian combat troops left in Cuba to put down a Hungarian-type uprising.

If these Russian troops should States has been clear to the Soviets there will be American intervention. A showdown this year is not ruled out.

Six months from now there will be a clearer picture on how many of these problems have worked out. Depending on whether they are Kennedy administration victories or defeats, their effects on the American presidential and congressional elections in 1964 will be great.

"Now Here's One That REALLY Packs a Punch!"

Consumers Are Buying

By JOSEPH SLEVIN

Business activity is racing ahead at an unexpectedly fast pace.

It went up more rapidly in the first quarter than the experts had anticipated and has risen even faster in the second quarter.

The best judgment of top government economists is that national output is climbing to a record breaking high annual rate of $582 billion during the current three-month period. The new peak is $10 million above the $572 billion production rate that the American economy achieved in the first quarter.

The upsurge is the sharpest for any three-month period since the last quarter of 1961.

The present business expansion is 28 months old. An age when upturns supposedly run out of steam. But this advance is setting a different kind of pattern by displaying new zip after it had slowed to a crawl for more than a year.

GOVERNMENT ANALYSTS are quick to caution against taking too rosy a view of the economy's new found strength. They stress that the unemployment rate still is holding at an unacceptable level of 5.9 per cent and they predict that activity will grow more slowly during the second half of the year than during the opening six months.

But the economy's current performance is a solid display. The experts report that activity is rising along a broad front.

It marks a significant change from the weaker advance that took place last year. Consumers and the federal, state and local governments supplied the big lift in 1962. Now businessmen have joined the parade and are providing powerful additional support. The experts believe that the final second quarter figures will disclose that gross private domestic investment has posted its sharpest jump since 1961.

Homebuilding is part of a gross private domestic investment and it is roaring ahead after a disappointing winter. Plant and equipment spending is climbing.

Businessmen are adding substantial quantities to their inven-ories. The Commerce Department published a new report recently that gives the experts additional confidence. It is the agency's regular flash durable goods survey and it shows that businessmen placed a larger volume of new machinery orders in May than in April.

The machinery firms are the heart of the dynamic capital goods industry and rising activity in machinery will give a lift to the whole economy.

The machinery orders are one of the most important strong points that the experts see when they try to peer into the future. Finished equipment customarily delivered some nine to 12 months after orders are placed which suggests that capital goods activity will remain high well into 1964.

WHEN THE EXPERTS draw a picture of the course they expect the economy to follow this year, the diagram shows the sharpest rise taking place in the second quarter, a marked slow down in the advance during the third quarter, then a fresh pick-up during the last quarter.

Consumers are one problem. They are spending record sums and the experts expect them to boost their outlays further as their incomes rise. But the analysts look for modest increases. They figure that consumers will do well to hold their automobile purchases at the current high rate. They see no signs of a new consumer buying spree for other merchandise.

Physical Fitness Dangers

By JOSEPH HIXSON

"That's Buddy's third helping. Boy, can that kid put it away. No wonder; he's only 10 and already he's 5 feet, 5 tall. You should have seen him catch that pass in the game last Friday."

Americans like to see their children eat with enthusiasm. They like weeds and compete like professionals in the cherished American sports, football, basketball and baseball.

But specialists in nutrition, and in childhood and physical medicine aren't as enthusiastic as many parents.

At the recent American Medical Association meeting in Atlantic City these doctors warned that we don't know enough about the results of fast growth in later life. That over-fed children develop more fat-holding cells that will always be with them, that contact sports played too early are too risky.

Dr. John B. Houmans, former dean of Vanderbilt University College of Medicine and respected senior authority on nutrition, reminded doctors attending a panel on the subject, that we aren't raising our children for the slaughterhouse.

HE SAID, "Optimum nutrition for man is not the same thing as optimum nutrition for farm animals." In the last 50 years said Dr. Youmans, American boys have grown 6 to 8 per cent taller and 12 to 15 per cent heavier. Girls are entering the period of their fertility earlier, he said.

But is all this speedup in physical development healthy? Dr. Youmans, now at the United Health Foundation in New York, isn't at all sure it is.

He wonders whether the rapid early growth of children may not make them more susceptible to the degenerative diseases later in life, diseases such as hardening of the arteries.

In another part of the vast AMA gathering doctors were pummeling glib generalities about physical fitness and the enthusiasm for heavy contact sports at an early age.

Dr. Harold M. Sterling of Tufts College of Medicine, Boston, branded as untrue the recent alarmed reports that American boys and girls are "dangerously unfit." He said the Presidents Council on Youth Fitness was applying meaningless tests in attempts to determine whether American youth are soft.

Dr. Sterling said that in almost all cases of chronic inability to pass exercise tests the children were suffering from a disease condition that could be more quickly and accurately detected and treated by doctors.

Pediatrician Thomas C. Cook of Berkeley, California, said that most exercise programs for younger children don't take into consideration their proper rates of growth and development.

He and fellow panelists agreed heavy contact sports before they have reached puberty are taking high risks of injury.

IN THE PRE-TEEN age group, the doctors said, nerve reflexes aren't fully developed. That makes ducking a hard hit baseball or a wild pitch much harder for younger boys. Also their muscles haven't developed sufficiently to protect their bones and joints against injury.

Dr. Cook, too, stressed that what doctors call "epiphyseal closure" should occur before boys take up contact sports. That simply means that bones rapidly growing in length aren't fully hardened and are much more easily broken.

Part of One Line

Dear Ann: Our 15-year-old daughter, Darlene, is at the stage where she thinks her parents are the most stupid, narrow-minded, old-fashioned and ignorant people in all the world.

You have expressed many views in your column which we have voiced first, but coming from you these judgments meant nothing. After Darlene read the very same advice in your column she conceded there was something to be gained from doing as you suggested.

Will you please say a few words about girls who telephone boys "just to talk." Our daughter is on the phone at least ten hours and a half every evening. She calls up one boy after another—as many as four or five. She insists the boys like it. How about this—DINOSAUR SET.

History Today

Today is Monday, July 8, the 189th day of 1963. There are 176 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1894, President Grover Cleveland declared martial law in Chicago to cope with railroad strike disorders. It was the first contest of its kind between federal and state authorities.

On this date In 1633, King Charles II granted a charter to Rhode Island.

In 1779, Spain authorized her subjects in Louisiana to seize English posts on the Mississippi River.

In 1889, John L. Sullivan defeated Jake Kilrain in the 75th round of their fight—the last bare-knuckle bout for the heavyweight championship.

In 1915, the U.S. Navy seized control of the wireless station at Sayville, Long Island, in order to preserve U.S. neutrality early in World War I.

In 1945, Japanese suicide planes damaged the U.S. aircraft carriers Indefatigable and Victorious late in World War II.

Ten years ago...A new wave of anti-Communist strikes was reported in East Berlin and other East German cities.

Five years ago...President Eisenhower began a four-day series of talks in Ottawa designed to bring about improvement in U.S. and Canadian relations.

One year ago...At least 46 persons were killed by floods and landslides on the Japanese island of Kyushu.

Hands of Toil

Dear Ann: I have a problem which may not seem important to others but it has caused me no end of unhappiness.

My husband is a garage mechanic. He is one of the finest men who ever walked in shoe leather. I wouldn't trade him for Richard Burton. But his hands and nails never look clean. There is always a trace of grease around his knuckles and under his fingernails.

When ever we are with friends or relatives I have the uncomfortable feeling that they are not noticing this. No one ever has said anything but it bothers me.

I told him about my feelings a few months ago. It was the first and only time I ever brought it up in the 10 years we've been married. He says there is nothing wrong with honest labor and I don't care if his hands label him as a working man because that's what he is.

If I'm foolish please tell me—NOT COMFORTABLE.

Dear Not Comfortable: Honest labor is nothing to be ashamed of but a man's hands need not label him.

Excellent soaps which will remove every bit of grease and grime are available. A man who will not take the time to use these special soaps must accept the label of "careless," because that's what he is.

Confidentially

TO HATE TO HURT HIM: What did you do with your shoes when you outgrew them? Did you continue to wear them and cripple your feet? Well, you've outgrown this young man. Be gentle but firm. Tell him you'd both be better off apart.

TO EXTREMELY EAGER: Forget the ventriloquist act and develop your own personality. Trying to borrow a girl friend's personality for the evening will not work.

Home, As Well As Family Auto, Requires Maintenance

No one operates a car without frequent oil changes, greasing and motor tune up, yet many people live in a home year after year without spending one cent for upkeep or maintenance.

This year has been set aside as official Home Remodeling Year. So, right now is an excellent time to check over your home from cellar to attic and mark down every place that needs repair. If it would help any, you can make up your own check list.

The best thing to do is to check each room separately. Note down the rooms which need painting, or whose floors should be refinished. Check the windows for leaks.

IF YOU'RE TIRED OF your family room, or any room in the house, for that matter, consider a low cost wall paneling which will give the room a completely new appearance.

You can have a solid wood paneling installed in any of several patterns which will give your room new character, charm and appeal. Light toned woods like Douglas fir or west coast hemlock are very popular. They can be easily finished with a clear sealer and clear plastic surfacing to retain the warm beige or champagne tones of the wood.

YOU CAN DO THIS room refinishing or modernizing yourself or you can have a good cabinet-maker or carpenter do the work. If you are working over old plaster, better install some one-by-three inch boards horizontally along the wall at two foot spacings nailed to the studs. Then you can install your panel boards vertically and have a good, level nailing surface. Some people like to finish the panel boards before they nail them in place. This way you can do the work of hand sanding and rubbing while the board is flat.

BE SURE TO CHECK the outside of your home, starting with the roof. Mark leaks for patching. Check gutters. Wood gutters wear for many years and they won't rust, but they should be red leaded inside and painted outside occasionally.

Next check all around the exterior walls of the home. Mark siding boards that need repair or nailing down. Check around windows; if there are leaks you may have to caulk the joints.

A dollar spent in preventative maintenance on a home will save many dollars in the long run.

Here's the Answer

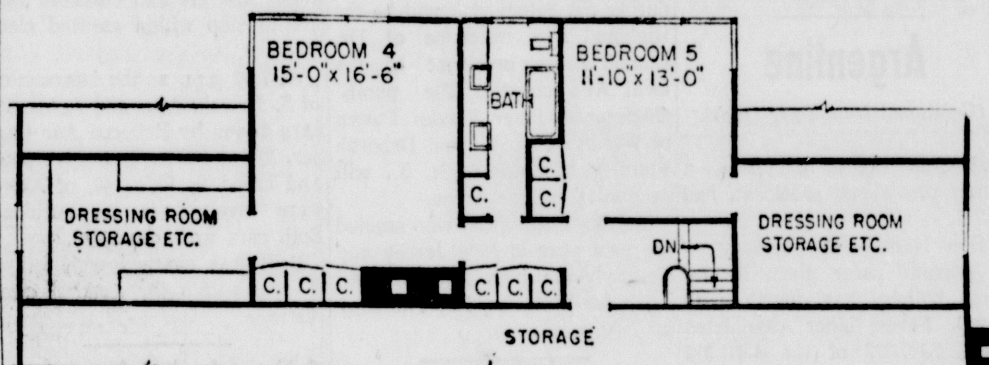

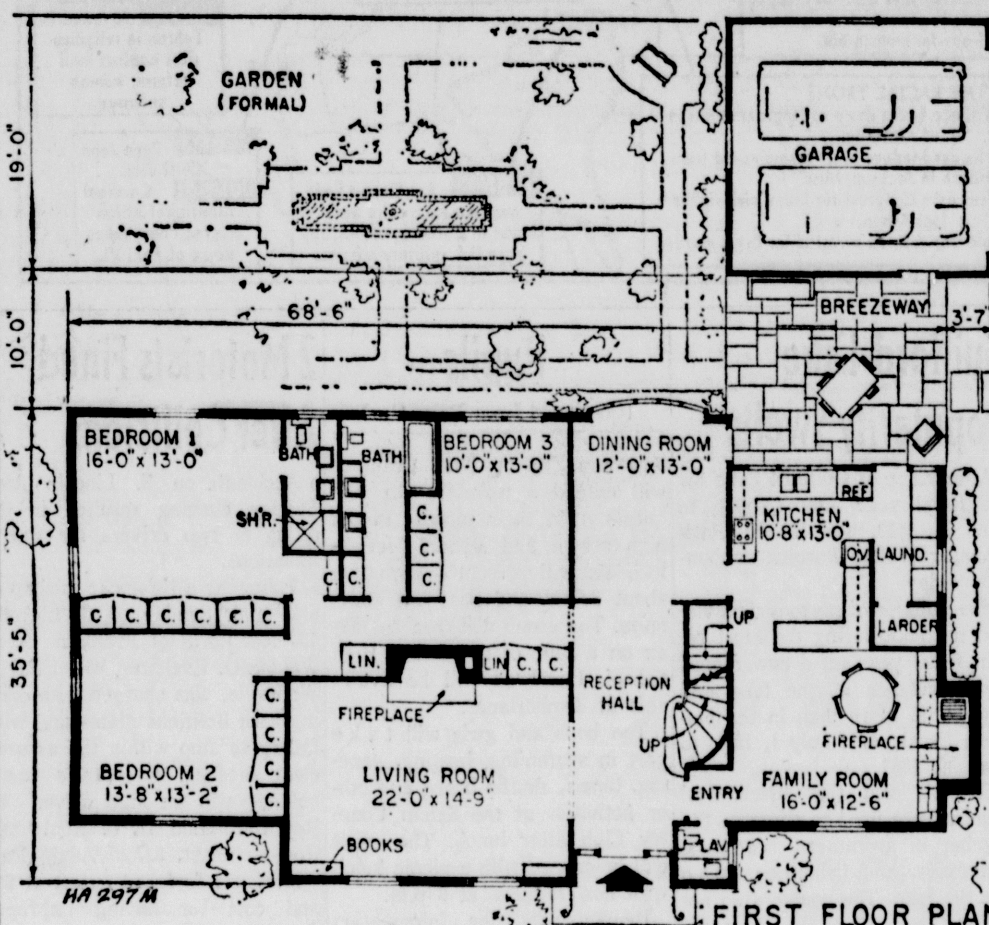

QUESTION: In making a flagstone patio floor soon, I will find it necessary to cut some of the flagstones. Because of the particular kind of layout I plan, about 15 flagstones will have to be cut straight across to give them an even edge. Can you tell me how to handle this?

ANSWER: The secret of cutting flagstone is to use a lot of light blows rather than a few heavy ones. Make a scored line along the face of the flagstone where you want the cut to be. The scoring is done by running a cold chisel along a straight-edge.

Nick each edge of the scored line to a depth of about one-eighth of an inch, then nick each edge of the other side of the flagstone. The two nicked edges then meet. Now score the other side of the flagstone with the chisel, holding the straightedge directly over the previous scored line.

Place the stone on the ground and deepen one scored line to about one-eighth of an inch, then do the same with the other scored line. Do this by holding the chisel in the crack and hitting it with gentle taps of a hammer. You now have made a groove running all around the flagstone.

Place the chisel in the center of the groove on one side of the stone and keep hitting it gently with the hammer, working toward the edges. The stone suddenly will split cleanly.

COLONIAL EXTERIOR has grace, quiet charm and pleasing proportions. Inside, a vast reception foyer, typical of the period, extends to the dining room. A curved stairway adds a nice touch to this area. The powder room is well located near the front entrance yet removed from direct view of foyer or family room. Family room has cooking-type fireplace with barbecue at side. A stone hearth runs across the entire room. The kitchen is large but efficient and laundry is 10-feet long with a larder at the end. The large living room is in balance, with fireplace and windows flanked by built-in bookcase. Baths and all bedrooms are large. Rudolph A. Matern, 90-04 161 St., Jamaica 32, N.Y., is architect for Plan HA297M. The plan contains 2,189 square feet on the first floor and 1,020 square feet in the second floor expansion.

New Types of Steel Invade Home Construction Market

Home owners faced with renovating and remodeling projects are always wise to see whether any of the newer building products fit in with their plans. Even when there is a decision to stick with the time-tested materials as often happens, there is a satisfaction in knowing that all areas have explored.

In some cases, home owners are discovering the old-line materials have moved into the new-product category because of changes in design or method of usage. Such is the case with steel, most often thought of in connection with large structural work. But new types of steel developed in industry laboratories, and new uses for old types, are bringing a steady stream of different products to the home construction market.

VARIETIES OF coated steels, for instance, are being used for shingles as well as interior and exterior walls. Most durable is porcelain-on-steel, which is made by fusing a surface of impervious glass on steel. Used for many years on refrigerators and stove this material is corrosion-resistant and come in many colors with glossy, semi-gloss and matte finishes. Porcelain-on-steel also is used for shingles. Their durability is enhanced by the use of stainless steel screws to fasten them in place.

Steel siding made of porcelain-on-steel can be rapidly installed because it is made in large panels of from 4 to 8 feet in size. An occasional rain will keep a porcelain-on-steel roof looking fresh and a spray with a garden hose will do as much for the sides of the house.

VINYL-COATED STEELS, a new development from industry laboratories, are also used for siding. They are available in a variety of textures ranging from fabric to wood grain patterns. Vinyl-coated steels are available for interiors as well.

Both interior and exterior panels may be installed on ordinary wood studs or on another new development—nailable galvanized steel studs. These retain their rigidity and will not warp, crack or sag.

DOORS MADE OF steel are now designed for a wide range of architectural styles. The tight fit of an outside steel door makes air leakage virtually nil, keeping in the heat in winter and retaining cool air in summer.

Folding steel doors for interior use also are gaining acceptance. And steel garage doors are especially convenient when double doors can be hung as a single unit. A steel beam across the top of the door opening permits a door two cars wide without a post in the center.

Building Permits

Permission for the building of garages and for various home improvements were issued in recent days by the city engineer's office.

The permits were for: A garage for a diesel operated tractor at the home of Paul Highfield Jr. of 589 Ohio Ave., $1,000. Porch repair at the home of Tony Colian of 1395 Ridgewood Drive, $200.

New porch at the home of Tracy Bissell of 932 Homewood Ave., $1,000.

Two garage roofs. Mrs. Harold Brian of 1023 S. Lincoln Ave., $200 and $100.

Asbestos siding at 666 Arch St., G. M. Sutherland of Albany Road, $1,000.

Enclose back porch of William Kaminsky of 1064 N. Ellsworth Ave., $1,600.

Two-car garage, Karl Wright of 238 Ohio Ave., $1,000. Partial new roof for Joe Bryan of 1839 E. State St., $250.

LAST MONTH - IN HISTORY

Meat Prices Unchanged This Week

Retail meat prices show little price change this week.

Farm and wholesale prices of all kinds of meat animals are quite steady. Live hog prices are up just a bit and the better grades of beef are showing some tendency to edge upward. The overall picture on meat is one of price stability for the coming weeks.

Beef prices are somewhat less, at retail, than during the same period last year. Common features this week include the usual steaks, T-bone, sirloin and porterhouse. Chuck steaks and rib steaks from the forequarter are also selections, and at a lower price level. Boneless cuts of beef seem to be growing in popularity. Examples of these are boneless rib roasts, pot roasts, chuck, and rib roasts. These are easy to prepare on a rotisserie and quickly sliced for serving.

Although fewer specials are evident on pork this week, the selection of pork cuts is as large as ever. Some of the price advantages are with cured pork cuts.

Picnics and bacon are two of the retail cuts priced below last year during this same period. Prices of fresh pork cuts are a bit higher following live animal prices in recent weeks. Market forecasts indicate that present prices will remain in effect on pork until late summer, when live animal prices will follow their usual pattern to lower price levels.

Poultry Economical

Poultry broilers continue as one of the more economical sources of meat. Rather plentiful supplies of this product tends to keep this item "on special" in many locations this week. There is a good range in weights from just above two pounds dressed, up to almost four pounds. This item is a favorite of homemakers for both kitchen and out of doors preparation.

Lamb offers possibilities for variety. Wholesale prices are lower than last summer. Chops, leg of lamb and shoulder are favorites for this kind of meat.

Vegetables Plentiful

A greater variety of Ohio-grown products are now in local markets. Because these are produced closer to the point of sale, a greater degree of freshness is possible. Snap beans and cabbage are now being harvested in the Marietta area. Celery, lettuce, radishes and green onions are products from the rich black soils of Celeryville and Hartsville. The first of the production of outdoor grown cucumbers will come from the Marietta area this week. Ohio is becoming an important source of escarole, endive, bibb, romaine and leaf lettuce. These, like cucumbers, come from greenhouses until the first part of July and then from the muck soil areas of Celeryville, Hartsville and other areas scattered around the state.

Sweet corn harvest is behind schedule because of the delay caused by cold weather damage in late May. The southern part of the state is beginning to pick this week. Local corn will be available after the middle of the month. Ohio's crop reaches a peak in August. Ohio now produces more late summer sweet corn than any other state.

A limited amount of black raspberries from local growers are now available.

Guilford Lake Popularity Swells

Attendance at Guilford Lake for the fiscal year July 1, 1962, to June 30, 1963, was 550,980, Park Manager Walter Burdick announced today.

The number of persons who visited the lake during the most recent fiscal year set a new record for attendance at the lake and was 24,673 more than in the previous fiscal year, July 1, 1961, to June 30, 1962.

Burdick said that mechanical counters are used to compute the number of swimmers, campers, picnickers, and fishermen who use the lake. The counters do not include residents of the lake area.

Jury Being Chosen In Hillyer Trial

LISBON — A petit jury is being selected today in the second degree manslaughter trial of Wayne L. Hillyer, 36, of Hanoverton, who was indicted for the traffic death of Earl McIntosh, 43, of New Garden, Jan. 13, 1962.

Hillyer was indicted by the April 1962 grand jury after his car ran through the west wall of Midway Tavern in Hanoverton and pinned McIntosh and several other patrons against the bar.

The jury, after being selected, will go to the location in Hanoverton and then will begin to hear testimony. The trial is expected to be completed late Wednesday.

Girl, Boy Bitten By Dogs Near Homes

Two children were treated for dog bites in the local hospitals over the weekend.

Paula Kissinger, 13, of 966 South Ave., was bitten on the left thigh by a dog while she was playing in a field on Perry St. Saturday afternoon. The girl was treated at City Hospital and released.

Six-year-old Thomas Martin of 1583 N. Ellsworth Ave. was treated at the Central Clinic Sunday afternoon after being bitten on the right arm by a dog in the neighborhood. The boy was released after having 10 stitches in his arm.

2 Motorists Fined After Collisions

Accidents on S. Lincoln Ave. Sunday evening resulted in the citing of two drivers for traffic violations.

Following a three-car mishap at 6:50 p.m. Sunday on S. Lincoln, 150 feet north of Franklin Ave., Waldon O. Eversizer, 45, of RD 1, Wellsville, was charged with driving with fictitious plates and with failing to stop within the assured clear distance. Eversizer's car collided with an auto driven by Roy Hammond 17, of Kent and Roy Barnhart, 52, of Adah, Pa.

Eversizer forfeited a fine of $50 and cost for having improper plates and $10 and costs for failure to stop within assured clear distance.

At 7:12 p.m. at the intersection of S. Lincoln Ave. and Aetna St., cars driven by Rebecca Ann Capper, 27, of RD 1, East Liverpool, and Lloyd H. Phitt, 40, of Akron were involved in an accident.

Both cars were damaged. Phitt was charged with failure to stop within the assured clear distance.

4 Cars In Mishap On W. Pershing St.

A four-car accident on W. Pershing St., 50 feet east of Howard Ave. at 6:42 p.m. Sunday resulted in minor damage to each of the cars.

The drivers were Harvey E. Koser, 48, of Wadsworth; John Frederick Barany, 20, of 550 E. College St., Alliance; Barbara Jacobs, 48, of RD 4, Lisbon; and Jesse B. Robinson, 56, of Akron.

According to police, the Koser, Barany and Jacobs autos, east-bound, were stopped on W. Pershing St. for a traffic light at the intersection of Ellsworth when the Robinson car, also east-bound, ran into the rear of the Jacobs car. The latter was pushed into the Barany vehicle, which in turn hit the rear of the Koser car.

Auto Drifts Into Yard; Child Unhurt

Two-year-old Timothy Lee Hamblen of 10617 Governor Ave., Cleveland, escaped possible injury when the parked car in which he was waiting alone for his father drifted on N. Ellsworth Ave. Sunday morning.

Police say the father, Lee Eugene Hamblen, got out of the car in the 400 block on N. Ellsworth about 9 a.m. Sunday, leaving the small boy for a short time. The child apparently knocked the car out of gear. The car coasted through a fence and yard, damaging the fence, flowers and bushes of Walter W. Sweeney of 465 N. Ellsworth. The father ran after the car and stopped it.

National Guard troops were ordered to pull out of Cambridge, Md., at noon today and Negro leaders said they would resume demonstrations against segregation after the troops departed. Gov. J. Millard Tawes sent the troops into the eastern shore city June 14 following repeated outbreaks of racial violence.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller announced he will ask the Governors Conference to endorse a resolution calling for state efforts to end racial discrimination in places of public accommodation, housing, education, transportation and employment.

Kentucky Gov. Bert Combs indicated he is narrowing the scope of his executive order against discrimination to include only public places of food, shelter, recreation, entertainment or amusement. As issued last month, the order indirectly would have banned racial bias in all business and professions licensed by the state.

"without reservations" by the railroad, Wirtz said. It was turned down by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, the Order of Railway Conductors and Brakemen and the Switchmen's Union of North America.

The unions issued a statement denouncing the plan as compulsory arbitration and "a dangerous step toward totalitarianism."

The railroad contend the 40,000 firemen at the center of the controversy hold jobs that cost them $600 million a year in unnecessary wages.

The Association of American Railroads has estimated a strike would affect some 700,000 workers and tie up 217,000 miles of track.

Hints from Heloise

DEAR HELOISE: Did you know you could make instant coffee in an automatic electric percolator?

Just add the water and instant coffee without the coffee basket or stem. Reasons for doing his might be:

To keep instant coffee hot after making it (this is my reason) or to fool someone into thinking he is drinking "real Coffee"! Perhaps a husband who is not supposed to have caffeine or a husband who thinks he does not like instant coffee!

ANNETTE EDWARDS.

DEAR ANNETTE: Now aren't you clever? Now, if you can suggest a way to fool them into thinking that the beds are made and the dishes are done, I'll send you an orchid!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Blankets—woolen—are beautiful when dried in a drier and much softer and fluffier than when dried on a clothes line. The important part to remember when drying blankets is to adjust the dryer so that there is VERY little heat or even none at all! (We are in the business.)

I might add that driers are also useful in the cleaning of your draperies. Just turn the heat off and let the air blow through them. This will remove all of the dust. My own living room drapes have a printed background and are 6 years old, but remain as crisp and fresh as new because I use the dry method of cleaning them.

Note: People should NOT use a dryer if they are adjusted to a high heat and the user cannot turn them down!

All-Stars Renew Old Rivalry At Cleveland Tuesday

Expect 50,000 Fans To Watch 34th Game

By JOE REICHLER Associated Press Sports Writer CLEVELAND Ohio (AP)—The National League, winner of five of the last seven games (excluding a tie), ruled a 6-5 choice today to defeat the American League in Tuesday's 34th All-Star game at vast Municipal Stadium.

A crowd of about 50,000 is expected, largest since 55,105 in Los Angeles watched the American League defeat the Nationals 5-3 in the second of two games in 1959. The game is scheduled to begin at noon (EST) and will be carried by NBC radio and television.

AL Leads Series 17-15 The game will mark the return to one All-Star game after four years of doubles. Despite its recent defeats, the American League holds a 17-15-1 edge in the series dating back to 1933.

This will be the first game at Cleveland since 1954, when the Americans won, 11-9, on a bases-filled bloop single by Nellie Fox. The veteran infielder will be the American League's starting second baseman again Tuesday.

Managers Alvin Dark and Ralph Houk, who will be master-minding the rival forces, will not announce their batting orders and starting lineups until 24 hours before game time.

However, it was expected that Dark, mindful of the four left-handed hitters in the American League's starting line-up, would name Jim O'Toole, Cincinnati's 13-game winning southpaw.

Houk, also playing the percentages will select a right-hander to oppose the predominantly right-handed hitting National League squad. The Yankee skipper originally had leaned to Jim Bunning, Detroit's right-hander ace who has pitched brilliantly in previous All-Star games.

Bunning Hurling Sunday Bunning, however, pitched nine innings Sunday and Houk has hinted he may go with Boston's Bill Monbouquette. Monbouquette lost in relief Sunday, but pitched only four innings and Houk said "it wasn't enough to trouble him."

Five of the American League's seven All-Star pitchers worked Sunday and only Jim (Mudcat) Grant of Cleveland is fully rested.

While both are determined to win, the rival managers approach this game with different attitudes. If they stick to their original intentions, Dark will keep his starters in the game as long as possible while Houk will make wholesale substitutions as soon as it is legally permissible.

Cards Infield Will Start

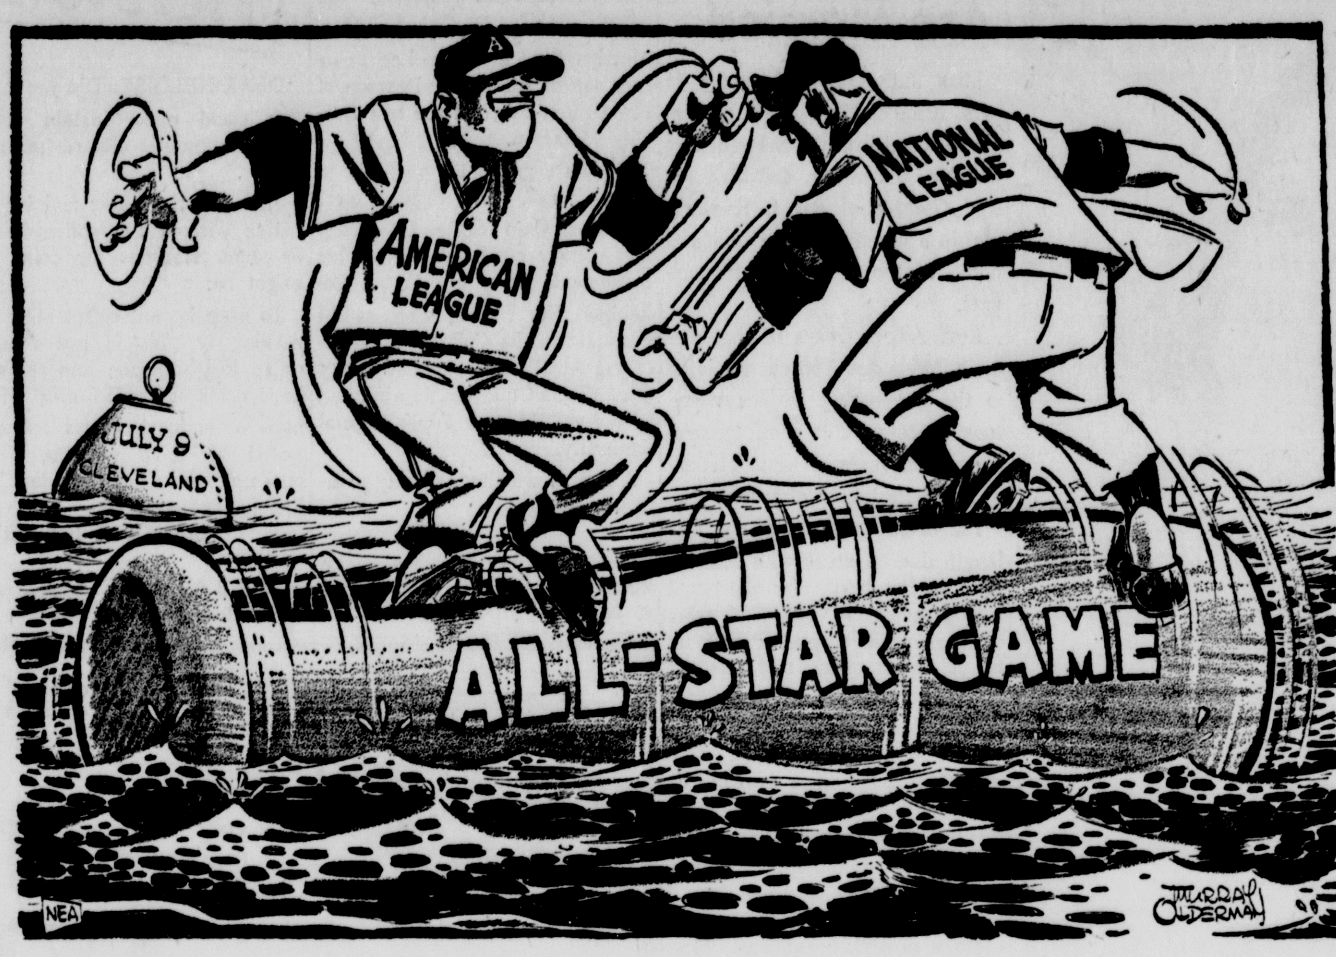

The National boast a glittering outfield comprised of Tommie Davis, the league's leading hitter, Hank Aaron, the No. 1 man in homers and runs batted in and Willie Mays perhaps baseball's best all around performer.

Ed Bailey, San Francisco's left-handed hitting catcher and an all-St. Louis infield of Bill White, Julian Javier, Dick Groat and Ken Boyer, complete the starting line-up. Javier replaces Pittsburgh's Bill Mazeroski who had to withdraw because of an injured leg.

Also on the NL squad will be Stan Musial, who will be appearing in his 24th consecutive All-Star game.

The Americans will open with Los Angeles' Leon Wagner, their No. 1 batter, in the outfield, along with teammate Albie Pearson and Detroit's Al Kaline who is hobbling with an injured leg. Pearson replaces Mickey Mantle, the playmaker's No. 1 choice for centerfield, who has been sidelined with a foot fracture.

Joe Pepitone, another Yankee, opens at first base, with Fox at second Boston's Frank Malzone at third Minnesota's Zoilo Versalles at short and the Twins' Earl Battey behind the plate.

Bucs Hand Mets 10th Straight Loss 11-5

Koufax, Spahn Hurl Shutouts; Cards Snap Losing Streak; Musial Homers

By JIM HACKLEMAN Associated Press Sports Writer

Sandy Koufax is a young left-handed pitcher on the threshold of greatness, Warren Spahn is a veteran left-hander who has lived in greatness for many seasons.

These two stars flashed their brilliance Sunday—one taking another step in his first really big year, the other adding another victory to a long string of triumphs.

Koufax fired his second straight shutout and eighth of the season for the Los Angeles Dodgers, pitching the National League front-runners to a 4-0 victory over Cincinnati in the opener of their doubleheader. His three-hit performance made him the first 14 game winner in the majors.

The Dodgers followed Koufax' masterful job with a 3-1 decision over the Reds that increased their league lead to three games over the San Francisco Giants, who split with St. Louis.

Spahn produced his gem in a night game at Houston, recording the 339th victory and 59th shutout of his 19-season career as the Milwaukee Braves downed the Colts 4-0.

The Cards ended a string of eight straight losses by taking the second game at San Francisco 5-0, with 42-year-old Stan Musial supplying the batting fireworks and Bob Gibson the pitching. An error by Ken Boyer enabled the Giants to win the 15-inning opener 4-3.

Also in the NL—the Pittsburgh Pirates battered the New York Mets into their 10th loss in a row, 11-5, and Philadelphia edged the Chicago Cubs 3-2 on a ninth-inning run produced on Ruben Amaro's triple and Cookie Rojas' pinch single.

Koufax continues to rack up impressive figures with his amazing pitching. He's 14-3 with an earned run average of 1.73, has already broken a Dodger season record for shutouts, and has the most in one year in the league since Mort Cooper got 10 for St. Louis in 1942. Sunday's victory was his seventh straight and 12th complete game.

Spahn, 12-4 and driving for his 13th 20-victory season, checked the Colts on five singles and one walk in his fourth shutout of the year. The 42-year-old master has allowed only one run in his last 37 innings—in a 16 inning, 1-0 loss cisco and collected four hits for at San Francisco last Tuesday night.

Musial, who smacked a two-run triple in the opener at San Francisco and collected four hits for the afternoon, broke a scoreless tie in the seventh inning of the second game with his 472nd career homer, following Dick Groat's single.

Jim Hart, Giant third baseman playing his first day in the majors, suffered a fractured left shoulder blade when hit by one of Gibson's pitches in the second game. Marichal drew a reprimand from umpire Al Barlick and an automatic $50 fine when he zipped one near Gibson's head in the next inning. Gibson also clipped Orlando Cepeda with a pitch later in the game.

Major League Stars

PITCHING — Sandy Koufax, Dodgers, registered his second straight shutout and eighth of the season, and became first 14-game winner in majors with 4-0 victory over Cincinnati. National League leading Dodgers also won the second game 3-1 for a doubleheader sweep.

BATTING — Don Zimmer, Senators, collected four hits, including grand slam homer, and knocked in seven runs as Washington extended its winning string to seven games by beating the Los Angeles Angels twice 7-3 and 6-4.

Gold Bar Sweeps Pair Over Weekend

Stoffer's One-Hitter Features Action In City League Softball

John Stoffer tossed a one-hitter to spark Class AA's league leading Old Dutch Squad to a 14-1 decision over Charley's Boats at Kelley Field over the weekend.

Gold Bar, the Class A number one unit, swept a doubleheader; Bliss continued to climb in the 'A' bracket as it knocked off Pop's Igloo 11-5 and Parker Chevrolet was awarded a forfeit.

Old Dutch broke the game wide open in the second frame with a four run rally. The winners (11-4) chalked up six markers in the third frame.

Dick Youngpeter collected a triple and two doubles to pace Old Dutch. Bob Stallsmith belted a home run in the fifth.

IN THE FIRST INNING with two men down, Charley's Frank Grey hit a double to drive in Jack Thompson, who reached base when he was hit by a pitched ball, and advanced to second on a fielder's choice.

Gold Bar beat Moose 4-3 and Parker Chevrolet 14-1. The winners got the first game after rain had washed out the seventh inning with the score tied 4-4.

The winners picked up a run in the bottom of the third to break a 3-3 tie as Chuck Wilson belted a double and scored on a single by Jim Eckstein.

THREE WALKS and a fielder's choice gave Gold Bar a 3-0 lead in the initial inning.

Losing hurler Don Casey clouted a two-run homer in the third. After two men were out in the seventh, Tom Foreman hit a single and Casey doubled him home. The weather then cancelled out the rally.

Gold Bar (12-3) banged out 10

Dempsey's Old Manager Dies

Kearns Was Ill For Two Months

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Two months ago Jack (Doc) Kearns, one of the most fabulous characters of boxing's golden era in the 1920s, said from a hospital bed: "Tell the mob I'll be back soon. I think I'll beat the count."

Sunday the man who managed Jack Dempsey to the heavyweight championship and who is credited with bringing the first million dollar gate to boxing by making it possible for women to attend fighters without any social stigma, died at the age of 80.

"The last words my father spoke were, 'We have to get ready and get on the ball and go to Nevada,'" said Jack Kearns Jr., at whose home the old promoter died. He explained his father planned to establish a health center in Nevada and promote boxing there.

"His body just wore out," the younger Kearns said. "In two months confinement to bed he kept arguing with doctors that he had to be up and doing. He had the active mind and sense of humor of a young man."

Funeral services for the fabulous Kearns who, in addition to Dem managed Mickey Walker, Joey Maxim and Archie Moore to world championships, will be held Wednesday afternoon in the Philbrick Chapel in Coral Gables.

"I am sorry to hear it," Dempsey said in New York when informed of Kearns' death "but we had been expecting it. We had a lot of laughs together and we made a lot of money and he made me."

It was in 1917 that he first encountered Dempsey, then a mucker at the union iron mines in California. In two years he had maneuvered Jack into a title bout with heavyweight champion Jess Willard at Toledo, Ohio, under Rickard's promotion.

Dempsey demolished Willard in three rounds in that historic July 4, 1919 fight under a broiling sun.

OHIO DRIVERS WIN GARNETT, Kan. (AP) — Ohioans won three races Sunday at the fifth annual Garnett Grand Prix sports car competition. They were Bob Johnson, Columbus; Chuck Dietrich, Sandusky, and Don Sessler, Columbus. Ken Miles of Hollywood Calif., won the featured race.

Don Zimmer's Hot Bat Keeps Senators' Streak Going At 7

At Cincinnati it was Gene Freese, who broke his leg. At the Dodgers again he filled in for the injured Maury Wills.
Finally, Zimmer landed where he wasn't expected to replace anybody—the hapless Washington Senators. So far, he has been something to remember.
He drove in seven runs Sunday, four with a grand slam home run, got four hits and raised his batting average to .306, as the Senators fashioned their longest winning streak since 1949—seven straight.

Salem Legion Whips Leetonia Squad

Scoring at will, Salem's tough American Legion baseball team trounced Leetonia 16-1 at the losers' Orchard Hill field Sunday.

Manager John Herman's aggressive bounce back from their only loss of the season at Akron last Thursday to chalk up their ninth straight loop victory.

Hilt Moffet and Tracy Bissell combined to throw a three-hitter at the losers.

Salem broke a 1-1 tie in the top of the second with a two run rally as Jim Gibbs and Ron Sabo hit singles and Dick Keeler hit a triple.

The winners added eight runs in the seventh inning. Only three of Salem's 19 hits went for extra bases.

George Begalla led the attack with a double and two singles. West, Masse and Fazzetta collected Leetonia's hits.

Young Uniontown Baseball Player Dies

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Injuries received in a baseball game July 3 have claimed the life of Timothy Morrison, 15, of Uniontown.

He died Sunday in Aultman Hospital, where doctors were unsuccessful in their attempt to save him in an operation Saturday night.

Morrison was wearing a batter's helmet when he was struck by a pitch in the game. The boy's father, Alexander, said his son was released from the hospital after treatment but returned Thursday afternoon when his condition worsened.

March 4, 1949, fell on a Sunday and President Zachary Taylor refused to be inaugurated on the Sabbath, so he was inaugurated March 5th.

A word from THERON at the Country Store

In our business we have a lot of customers from many miles around. Some of them go out of their way to help us make our business a success.

To these people we feel we owe something a little extra so we started what we call the Country Store Club. They get a card which says I shop at the Country Store and recommend it to my friends and neighbors.

Each day one wins two steak dinners. Each week we have an extra special for members. Now we have another good deal. You can buy our own private label milk in plastic cartons for the low price of 3 1/2-gal. for 95c.
